The Department of Insurance, Financial Institutions and Professional Registration regulates the consumer service industries in Missouri by encouraging a fair and open market; establishing coherent and evolving policies that balance the interest of consumers, professionals and industry; and enforcing state laws and regulations governing business to protect consumers from unfair and inequitable treatment. The department is funded through fees and assessments from the industries and professionals regulated by the department rather than state general revenue.

Office of the Director

The director's office includes the department director, deputy director, general counsel, chief counsel, public information staff, legislative affairs counsel and support staff. The director's office also includes receivership activities. When a judge orders an insurance company into receivership, the director is responsible for either rehabilitating the company or liquidating it.

Insurance Consumer Affairs Division

The Consumer Affairs Division assists the general public in resolving complaints against insurance companies and agents and provides information to consumers regarding policies. Consumers can file complaints using the Insurance Consumer Hotline, (800) 726-7390, or through the department's website, www.insurance.mo.gov, which has a broad array of consumer and industry information available. In 2012, the division responded to nearly 3,800 complaints, 9,292 inquiries and opened 857 investigations, recovering $10.9 million for consumers. The division accepts complaints for all types of insurance, as well as motor vehicle service contracts, public adjusters, bail bond agents and health care discount plans.

The division also investigates unlicensed insurance activities and reviews license applications referred from the Insurance Licensing Section. Department investigations may result in license denials, revocations or suspensions, cease and desist orders, injunctions and referrals for criminal prosecution.

Division of Insurance Company Regulation

The Insurance Company Regulation Division monitors the financial condition of insurance companies operating in Missouri.

The division works to identify financially troubled companies so that action may be taken to prevent insolvencies. The division conducts financial examinations of 233 domestic insurance companies at least every five years. The department director can call for an examination of a licensed insurer at any time. The division also audits and determines premium taxes owed by insurance companies. Most insurers pay a two percent premium tax in lieu of income taxes. The division determines the tax due from each company. In 2012, the division collected over $236.9 million in taxes, which is distributed to general revenue, state schools and other funds.

The division verifies that insurers pay their assessments into the state’s insurance guaranty funds, which back up insurance policies much the same way the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. backs up bank deposits when a bank fails.

Division of Insurance Market Regulation

The Insurance Market Regulation Division protects Missouri consumers by examining insurance company practices for compliance with state law. Most insurance policies and rates must be filed with the division so they can be reviewed for compliance with state law.

Policies and rates are filed with two sections of the division: Life and Health Section and Property and Casualty Section (which includes auto, homeowners, workers’ compensation and various types of malpractice insurance).

The division’s Market Conduct Section examines insurance companies’ past treatment of policyholders through their marketing, rates and claims handling. If violations of the law are detected, the director can order an insurer to pay restitution to consumers, either through re-processing of claims or re-evaluation of the premium charged for the policy, as well as penalties. In 2012, consumer recoveries totaled over $2.3 million and fines totaled over $5 million.

The division also has a Statistics Section, which analyzes and publishes industry and market data as well as industry trends.

Other services provided by the division include financial, budget, human resources and information technology.

The Division of Finance regulates state-chartered banks, trust companies and savings and loan associations. The division is headed by the commissioner of finance, who is appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The division has 26 administrative and clerical employees in the Jefferson City office and 85 field examiners in Kansas City, St. Louis, Jefferson City, Springfield and Sikeston.

The division is funded through assessments and fees paid by banks and licensees.

Banking in Missouri

Missouri ranks fifth in the nation in the number of state-chartered banks. As of Dec. 31, 2012, the Division of Finance supervised 270 banks and trust companies with combined assets of $96.1 billion. The deposits in all Missouri state-chartered banks and trust companies are insured by the FDIC; savings and loan associations are also federally insured.

Savings and Loan Supervision

The Division of Savings and Loan Supervision, created in 1895, was merged into the Division of Finance in 1994, giving the division supervision of state-chartered savings and loan associations.

As of Dec. 31, 2012, there were six savings and loan associations with total assets of $392 million.

Mortgage Licensing

The division has 360 licensed mortgage broker companies and 3,495 mortgage originators. The section investigates license applicants for character including criminal history, general fitness, experience and financial responsibility. A five-member Residential Mortgage Board approves regulations and hears appeals from the commissioner's licensing decisions.

Consumer Credit

The Consumer Credit Section supervises more than 3,838 institutions licensed for consumer lending, payday lending, automobile title lending, retail credit financing of motor vehicles and other goods and the financing of insurance premiums. The section also enforces the Sale of Checks Law, which provides for the licensing of companies
