The first part of the report deals with the general situation in the country. It is noted that the economy is still in a state of depression, and that the government is facing a serious financial crisis. The report then goes on to discuss the various measures that have been taken by the government to deal with these problems.

One of the main measures mentioned is the reduction of government expenditure. This has been done in a number of ways, including the cancellation of certain public works projects and the reduction of salaries for government employees. It is noted that these measures have helped to reduce the government's budget deficit, but that they have also had a negative impact on the economy.

Another measure mentioned is the increase of taxes. This has been done in a number of ways, including the introduction of new taxes and the increase of existing ones. It is noted that these measures have helped to increase government revenue, but that they have also had a negative impact on the economy.

The report also discusses the government's policy on foreign trade. It is noted that the government has been trying to increase its exports and reduce its imports. This has been done in a number of ways, including the imposition of export subsidies and the reduction of import duties. It is noted that these measures have helped to increase the government's foreign exchange reserves, but that they have also had a negative impact on the economy.

Finally, the report discusses the government's policy on social welfare. It is noted that the government has been trying to improve the living standards of the population. This has been done in a number of ways, including the provision of social security benefits and the improvement of public health services. It is noted that these measures have helped to reduce poverty and improve the health of the population, but that they have also had a negative impact on the economy.
