The first part of the book is devoted to a general introduction to the subject of the history of the United States. It begins with a chapter on the early years of the Republic, from the time of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776 to the end of the War of 1812. This is followed by a chapter on the period of the Jacksonian era, from 1820 to 1845. The third chapter covers the years from 1845 to 1860, the period of the Civil War and Reconstruction. The fourth chapter deals with the years from 1860 to 1890, the period of the Gilded Age and the Progressive Era. The fifth and final chapter covers the years from 1890 to the present, the period of the New Deal and the post-war era.

The second part of the book is devoted to a detailed study of the political and social changes that have taken place in the United States since the end of the Civil War. It begins with a chapter on the Reconstruction era, from 1863 to 1877. This is followed by a chapter on the Gilded Age, from 1877 to 1890. The third chapter covers the years from 1890 to 1914, the period of the Progressive Era. The fourth chapter deals with the years from 1914 to 1945, the period of the New Deal and the Great Depression. The fifth and final chapter covers the years from 1945 to the present, the period of the Cold War and the post-war era.
