NOTES:
- The term "Manufacturing Industry" must be understood to include not only all factories and workshops, but also those engaged in the manufacture of articles, or direct labor, not necessarily within the meaning of the term.
- The kind of product and the character of product should be described as clearly as possible, e.g., "Spool Match Coop., etc.
- In the case of small establishments, the entire labor should be recorded, in the case of large establishments, only the labor of classes of work, or the labor of departments.
- The values of the products, in the case of small and local products, are to be calculated for the neighborhood only, the value of the product being the price received at the place of manufacture.

---

Columns:
- Column 1: Name of Anniversary, Company, or Individual.
- Column 2: Average annual employment.
- Column 3: Average annual capital.
- Column 4: Power used in Manufacturing.

Remarks: The word "Manufactures" must be understood, in its largest significance, to include not only all factories and large works, but also the mechanical trades, blacksmithing, coopering, carpentering, &c. The smallest shop should not be omitted, provided the population exceeds 200 annually, including the out of employ. Enumerators will take pains to reach all of the productive establishments, large and small, within the several districts.

Forms 3: The kind of industries or the character of product should be described specifically, such as Building-Machinist, Carver, Fiddler, Foundry, Machine Shop, Coopering, Blacksmith, &c.

Forms 4: In many establishments (as cooperage shops, blacksmith shops, &c.), it will be found that no ordinary laborers are employed. In such cases a blank will be left.

Forms 5 and 6: All the 10 weeks of the year should be accounted for in one or more of the columns 15 to 17, that is, 10 weeks on full time, 5 weeks in half time and 5 weeks on half time. 10 weeks on full time, and 10 weeks on half time is 10 months.

Forms 7 and 8: These schedules are of prime importance. Strict care and judgment should be exercised in making the returns relative thereto, especially in the case of small shops where book-keeping is not kept.

Forms 9 and 10: The name and description of the product is intended, in the case of wholesale and factory producing. The names of the dealers, makers, etc., the wholesale prices of the goods. In the cases of small shops producing goods, or doing work, for the neighborhood only, the value of the product must be placed in the day.
