HISTORICAL NOTES

The Missouri General Assembly passed a law on March 29, 1883 creating the first State Board of Health. The Board consisted of seven members, five of whom had to be medical doctors. The duties of the Board were varied, but included oversight of the first statewide law regarding the registration of births and deaths. The Board was also responsible for sanitary conditions in the state, enforcing quarantines when necessary, and working for the “protection and preservation of the health of the citizens.” (1883 Laws of Missouri p. 96) The Secretary of the Board was the only salaried member, and he would be the one to enforce the Board’s duties and write reports.

House Bill 711, passed by the General Assembly on May 21, 1919, reorganized the State Board of Health and created a State Health Commissioner. Each county was also tasked with the job of hiring Deputy State Health Commissioners for three-year terms to look after the health of their citizens. The Board of Health was given seven divisions to control: Medical Licensure, Vital Statistics, Preventable Diseases, Venereal Diseases, Child Hygiene, Public Health Nursing and Sanitary Engineering. The divisions would change frequently for the next couple decades.

In 1945-6 much of state government as a whole was reorganized. The Department of Public Health and Welfare was formed, and within that Department legislators placed the Division of Health, the Division of Welfare and the Division of Mental Diseases.

Another large statewide reorganization took place in 1974. This time the Division of Health was moved to the Department of Social Services (DSS). “Organizational changes within the Division of Health include the creation of a new section oriented to maternal and child health called the Section of Medical Care and transfer of the division’s environmental health programs to the Department of Natural Resources...The Division of Health retained six of the seven sections existing before reorganization. These are the Sections of Personal Health Services, Local Health, General Services, Hospital and Technical Services, Epidemiology and Disease Surveillance, and the State Center for Health Statistics.” (1973-1975 Biennial Missouri Health Report, pp. 3-4)

In 1985 the General Assembly created a new Department of Health. Its new mission was to, “supervise and manage all public health functions and programs.” (1985 Laws of Missouri p. 591) The State Board of Health would serve in an advisory capacity.

The final reorganization took place in 2001. The Division of Aging (part of the Department of Social Services) was combined with the Department of Health to form the new – and current – Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS). DHSS’s mission is “to be the leader in promoting, protecting and partnering for health.” (<http://health.mo.gov/about/>)

Bureau of Vital Statistics

Federal Comprehensive Health Planning legislation (P.L. 89-749) was enacted on November 3, 1966. States were awarded grants to develop comprehensive health planning information and offices. As a direct result of this Federal Public Law, Missouri created the Center for Health Statistics in 1971 believing that having a strong statistical base of knowledge would aid in comprehensive future health planning initiatives. The Center is responsible for collecting, analyzing, and distributing data on population, vital statistics, health facilities, health manpower, health services, health conditions, and health hazards.

In the mid-1990s the Center was re-named the Center for Health Information Management & Epidemiology, aka "CHIME." By 2010, the division was re-named again as the Bureau of Vital Statistics. This section contains publications created under all three incarnations.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND SENIOR SERVICES
Bureau of Vital Statistics
Series 4: Vital Events & Statistics, 1911-2011

Extent: Incomplete

Arrangement: Chronological

Scope and Content

Published as part of the MO Center for Health Statistics Series (later renamed the CHIME Series and again the BVS Series).

This series is broken down into two major groups. The first is “Other,” which includes everything that is not an annual VS report, and the second is “Missouri Vital Statistics” reports. These annual reports show statewide statistics of births, deaths, marriages, and divorces in Missouri. The marriage and divorce statistics do not begin until 1949. No reports were compiled between 1935 and 1948. In addition to statewide totals, these reports are frequently organized by county and for deaths also by cause of death.

Electronic PDF versions of annual VS reports are available on the Department of Health’s website from 1999 to the present here: <http://health.mo.gov/data/vitalstatistics/>.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND SENIOR SERVICES
Bureau of Vital Statistics
Missouri Monthly Vital Statistics, 1967-2002

Extent: Incomplete

Arrangement: Chronological

Scope and Content

These monthly reports show statewide statistics of births, deaths, marriages, and divorces in Missouri. In addition to statewide totals, these reports may be organized by county for births and deaths only; usually these are contained in the earlier reports from the 1960s and 1970s. The tables may also include certain causes of death by county. Beginning in the late 1980s, the issues focused more heavily on articles about the data, rather than the data itself.

Issues from 2006 to the present are available only on the Department of Health's website at <http://health.mo.gov/data/vitalstatistics/>.

Series 16: Certificate of Need Program, 1984-2000

Extent: Incomplete

Arrangement: Chronological

Scope and Content

Published as part of the MO Center for Health Statistics Series (later renamed the CHIME Series and again the BVS Series).

Missouri's Certificate of Need Program was begun with 1979 legislation that would take effect in October the following year. The Program was motivated by federal Public Law 93-641. Significant changes were made in 1983. Certificate of Need is an effort to contain costs, improve quality and increase access for many of Missouri's major healthcare services. Services include preparing, reviewing, and revising rules and regulations for use in the analysis of health service applications; conducting special projects and studies on key health issues; and assisting with special projects.

Section for WIC and Community Nutrition Services

This section is part of the Division of Community and Public Health. Previous incarnations were called the Division of Nutritional Health and Services, the Bureau of Nutrition Services and WIC, and the Division of Maternal, Child, and Family Health. Many older publications appear under the “Maternal, Child, and Family Health” nomenclature.

WIC stands for Women, Infants, and Children and is a federal program. However, WIC is administrated in part through the states. Missouri coordinates WIC programs through the Missouri WIC Information Network System (MOWINS). WIC is a special supplemental nutrition program which provides services to pregnant women, new mothers, infants and children up to their 5th birthday based on nutritional risk and income eligibility. The primary services provided are health screening, risk assessment, nutrition education and counseling, breastfeeding promotion, and referrals to healthcare. Supplemental food is provided at no cost to participants.

This section also includes documents published under the former Bureau for Prevention of Mental Retardation.

Institutions

Mt. Vernon Tuberculosis Sanatorium, 1909-1980

Extent: Incomplete

Arrangement: Chronological

Scope and Content

This hospital was in operation from 1907 to 10/31/2014.

“Founded by the state of Missouri in 1907 as a tuberculosis hospital, Missouri Rehabilitation Center housed TB patients from throughout the state until new medications helped decrease the need to hospitalize patients. Coinciding with the decline in TB was an increase in other lung diseases, brought on by a larger population and a greater incidence of smoking.

“In 1971, the Missouri General Assembly expanded the mission of the institution to include all types of cardiac and pulmonary diseases, including emphysema, bronchitis, bronchiectasis and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), among others. The name was changed to Missouri State Chest Hospital.

“Again, over time, medical advances shortened lengths of stay for these diseases. The success of treatments at Missouri State Chest Hospital, along with new regulations by Medicare, Medicaid and private insurers, brought about a decline in patient census similar to the decline experienced by other hospitals throughout the nation. By the 1980s, it was apparent the hospital was ready for a new direction.

“In 1985, the Missouri General Assembly again changed the facility’s name and mission. This time, it would answer the needs of those who were seriously impaired through accident or injury and who had the capacity for improvement through extensive rehabilitation. General physical rehabilitation programs were begun in late 1985, and the hospital opened its traumatic brain injury (TBI) program in January 1986.

“In 1996, ownership of MRC was transferred to University of Missouri Health Care by the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services. Over the past decade, the number of long-term acute care patients at MRC has steadily declined, due in large part to the growth in the number of competing facilities that provide similar long-term care and rehabilitation services.”

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND SENIOR SERVICES Missouri Hospital Plans, 1963-1978

Extent: Incomplete

Arrangement: Chronological

Scope and Content

These annual plans “for the construction and modernization of hospitals, public health centers, and medical facilities” were begun in 1948 and originally approved by the Surgeon General. Yearly revisions were made, but the earliest revision in the Archives’ collection is from 1963. The original objective of the plan was “to develop a correlated system of hospitals and health services and to meet the community needs throughout the State for additional facilities and services.” Plans were compiled in part from survey data sent to Missouri hospitals.

Missouri Epidemiologist: This is a monthly newsletter distributed to public professionals across Missouri. Later, it was changed to a bi-monthly publication. According to the first issue, Missouri Epidemiologist is "designed to provide information about outbreaks and investigations of diseases which pose a threat to the health of Missouri's residents. It is the premise of the editors...that better awareness concerning symptoms of rarely-seen disease may assist in its identification." The editors encourage feedback from the public "so we may provide a forum for professionals concerned with disease control and prevention."
