Historical and Biographical Notes

This collection started as four large series of negatives and a few prints transferred to the Archives in 2007, totaling well over 25,000 unique images. Together, the images provide a thorough representation of Missouri's highway history from horse- and mule-drawn equipment to modern pavers and electronics.

| 3      | 22  | 2099-001 | Bus driver Henry Dette scratches his head at a bridge over the Gasconade River near Dixon. Some students lean out of the bus. The sign on the river says there's a 2,000-pound weight limit. According to Missouri State Archives Facebook users, Mr. Dette would have the children get out of the bus and walk across the bridge. Then he would drive the bus over himself and reload the kids safely on the other side. | Pulaski County               | 1960-7-15 |       |
