Historical and Biographical Notes

The Missouri Ethics Commission was established by the Missouri Ethics Law of 1991 (Laws 1991, p. 525). It is composed of 6 members whom are appointed by the governor to four-year terms. Each member must be from a different congressional district and no more than three people per political party may serve. In addition to the commissioners, there is an Executive Director who oversees the daily operations of nearly two dozen staff.

The Missouri Ethics Commission oversees filings of federal-, state-, and local-level candidates, candidate committees, elected officials, and lobbyist, including financial disclosures and financial campaign reports. The commission also has the ability to receive complaints and conduct audits and investigations as needed to ensure compliance. Their work is not dissimilar from that of the Federal Election Commission created in 1974 or the paperwork tracked by the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971.

Prior to the creation of the Missouri Ethics Commission, the same types of paperwork were filed in the Division of Campaign Reporting in the Secretary of State's Office. That division was established by an initiative petition, "Proposition 1", at the November 5, 1974 General Election. The segment of the law creating the Division was also enshrined as 1975 130.10-085 RSMo, which preserved the office regardless of the pending federal ruling on Proposition 1. The majority of Proposition 1 was overturned by the Missouri Supreme Court in 1977.
