Historical and Biographical Notes

The State Auditor of Missouri is an elected official responsible for serving as the state's chief fiscal regulator. Originally, the State Auditor was appointed to a four-year term by the governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate (1820 Constitution, Article IV, Section 12). The 1865 Constitution created the Office of State Auditor as an elected position (Article V, Section 16). The 1945 constitution changed the position to be the only state executive branch official elected in even-numbered non-presidential election years (Article IV, Section 17).

The duties of the office, as defined by the 1945 Missouri State Constitution, Article IV, Section 13 of the constitution are:

The state auditor shall have the same qualifications as the governor. He shall establish appropriate systems of accounting for all public officials of the state, post-audit the accounts of all state agencies and audit the treasury at least once annually. He shall make all other audits and investigations required by law, and shall make an annual report to the governor and general assembly. He shall establish appropriate systems of accounting for the political subdivisions of the state, supervise their budgeting systems, and audit their accounts as provided by law. No duty shall be imposed on him by law which is not related to the supervising and auditing of the receipt and expenditure of public funds.

Final audit reports are prepared by the State Auditor. The reports detail and examine an agency's operation and performance. Audits may be conducted on state agencies, courts, counties, school districts, and by citizen petition on school districts, certain counties, and other political subdivisions, per RSMo 29.200, 29.230.1, 29.230.2 and 29.205. The State Auditor also conducts audits for county and city governments lacking their own auditor or when requested by citizen petition

Series

The records are organized into the following series:

Audit Reports, 1822-1976 (unnumbered series)

Audit Reports, 1976- (numbered series)

Audit Reports, 1822-1976

Extent: 95.6 cubic ft. (238 Hollinger boxes)

Arrangement: Chronological, then alphabetical within year

Scope and Content

The Audit Reports, 1822-1976, series represents the earliest audits maintained by the State of Missouri. During this era, the audits were unnumbered, and are thus filed alphabetically within year. Some of the reports are fragile and others may contain newspaper clippings or related correspondence.

Files impacted by severe mold were reformatted and now exist as facsimile surrogates. Digital copies are also available. Several other 1930s reports were also molded, cleaned, and have been isolated into their own box.

Regarding audits of the courts, the naming convention of the reports varied, sometimes placing the county first and others the court type first. The name used on the table below is the official name as it appears on the report cover.

Inventory number 7437 is a duplicate of 7438, the 1966 State Department of Agriculture, 1960-1963 audit.

Audit Reports, 1976-

Extent: 90.4 cubic ft. (226 Hollinger boxes)

Arrangement: By audit number

Scope and Content

The Audit Reports, 1976- series is the second grouping of audits conducted by the Office of the State Auditor. These reports are numbered. From 1976 until 1999 the audit numbers are patterned as [two-digit year]-[three-digit number]. For 2000 and after, the audit numbers are patterned as [four-digit year]-[three-digit number]. Most disaster claim audits are patterned differently, D[two-digit year]-[1-2-digit number]/[second assigned number]. If the funding source was federal, there is also a project number in the contents field of the disaster reports.

From 1999 onwards, digital copies of these reports were created and they are stored digitally on Electronic Resources Archives (ERA).

Years Examined are listed as they occur in the report. If no year range could be determined, the year the report was issued was used instead. This was common in the digital only 2018 reports where only the summary page was included.

The Auditor's Office also maintains virtual copies of reports from 1999 to present at <https://auditor.mo.gov/AuditReport/Reports>, which can be searched by title, year, locality, and/or state agency.
