Historical and Biographical Notes

United States postcards took off around 1907 when senders were allowed to write messages on the backs of the cards. Earlier, from 1901 to 1906, senders could only address the cards on the back and there was only a small space (if any) reserved on the front for a message. Historic postcards are a popular collector's item.

Postcards, 1904-2012

Extent: 1/3 cubic ft.

Arrangement: Generic Missouri postcards first, then arranged alphabetically by location. One out-of-state postcard at the end. Any additional accessions will be added to the end.

Scope and Content

This collection contains postcards from across the State of Missouri and includes cards from the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair. Some cards have been addressed and postmarked, others have not. See the Excel spreadsheet for indications of which cards are in the public domain.

The dozen miniature postcards from the "Souvenir Postcards of the Ozarks" set have been digitized and are on Manuscript DVD #5 in Reference. These are Box 165 Folders 175-186.
