Historical and Biographical Notes

James Sullivan is a collector of Civil War documents and memorabilia as well as a Civil War historian. He has a particular interest in the history of the Western Sharpshooters and Missouri secession. Sullivan has donated many of his original materials to the Archives since 2015, and this manuscript collection is composed of those donations. Many items were purchased from eBay sellers. Whenever possible, the eBay documentation and mailers have been kept with the accession records in order to aid provenance research.

			that branch of the soldier trade; / But if it came to facing fire, / Of war, I guess, you'd quickly tire." No date. NOTE: A wallet and lancet belonging to Niestrath are held at the Museum of Missouri Military History.
	210	2	Letter: Written by Capt. J. C. McFerran of Jefferson Barracks to Mr. W.A. Gordon of the Quartermaster General's Office in Washington, D.C. McFerran calls the Barracks "awfully out of repair and becoming worse every day." Also says he's been suffering from rheumatism and his doctor is recommending he go to the warm springs of Arkansas. He asks if Congress has appropriated money for repairs or assigned officers to stations.	04/07/1860
	210	3	Letter: Written by B.N. Smith of Milan, MO to his cousin James K.P. Sayler, Esq. of Romeo, TN. Letter includes many political references and the writer expresses his support of the Union and keeping the country together. Includes the original envelope.	12/07/1860
	210	4	Envelope: Envelope stamped with a political cartoon of Jefferson Davis. The top is a drawing of "Jeff the Dictator As He Is" in uniform holding a sword and a flag with a skull and crossbones. The bottom drawing of "Jeff the Dig-Tater-Er As He Should Be" shows Davis in a pair of shorts hoeing a potato field under a hot sun and a whip yielded by an African-American man. Printed by D. Murphy's Son, Printers. 65 Fulton & 327 Pearl Sts. N.Y.	1861-1865
	210	4A	Envelope: with political cartoon in upper left depicting a hand captioned "W.S." reaching toward a tiny man with fly wings and carrying a black flag with skull and crossbones. The fly-man is labeled "J.D.," probably for Jefferson Davis. Could "W.S." be Western States? Western Sanitary Commission?	1861-1865
	210	4B	Envelope: with political cartoon in upper left depicting two rats with human faces – one labeled "Manchester Rat," the other "Paris Rat" – eating a bound bale of cotton labeled "Secession Powder for Rats." This is meant to convey that Manchester (England) and Paris (France) are willing to eat "rat poison" in order to maintain their ties to cotton and the seceded states.	1861-1865

Location	Box	Folder	Contents	Date
	210	4C	Envelope: with political cartoon on left depicting an illustration of a donkey (ass) if viewed normally, which morphs into the illustration of a man when turned upside down. Right-side-up caption reads, "Portrait of the young man who sends War news to the New York papers." The upside-down caption reads, "Portrait of the young man who don't understand what that Washington Correspondent is driving at." Printed by P. L. Gilbert, Museum Building, Albany.	1861-1865
	210	4D	Envelope: with political cartoon on left depicting a general on horseback saying, "Why don't you get up behind" to a kneeling, pleading woman labeled "Miss. Ouri." The general is sitting at the very rear of the horse, leaving no room for the woman – Missouri – to join him.	1861-1865
	210	4E	Envelope: with political cartoon on left depicting a rat called "Missouri" in an apron and bonnet making a cauldron full of "Secession Soup" over the fire. Cartoon is captioned, "Missouri tasting Secession Soup, and gets burnt! and thinks she won't go in." Printed by New-York Union Envelope Depot, 144 Broadway.	1861-1865
	210	4F	Envelope: with political cartoon on left depicting a woman dipping her toes into a washtub of hot water labeled "Secession." Cartoon is captioned, "Poor deluded Miss-Souri takes a Secession bath, and finds it much hotter than she expected!" Printed by D. Murphy's Son, Print. 66 Fulton & 372 Pearl Street, N. Y.	1861-1865
	210	4G	Envelope: two-color illustration of Maj. Gen. J. C. Fremont on the left, framed by a draped American flag.	1861-1865
	210	4H	Envelope: with stamp of state seal on left captioned, "Missouri. On the Fence." Published by Upham, 310 Chestnut St. Phila. References either Missouri's difficulties deciding to stay in the Union or secede or that Missouri is a border state.	1861-1865

Location	Box	Folder	Contents	Date
			C. Frémont (right). Slogan below the flags reads, "We Stand by the Union." Envelope printed by J.M. Whittemore & Co., Boston. John's etching by John Barren, which was taken from an 1856 lithograph by Crehen after Saintin and printed by J.H. Bufford, Boston, available through the Library of Congress https://www.loc.gov/resource/pgs.00384/ . The couple was well-known in the 1850s as propagandists for Westward Expansion. John became the first-ever Republican nominee for U.S. President in 1856. When the Civil War began in 1861, he was appointed head of the Department of the West, but was relieved from duty in short order.
	210	5	Speech: Typed, published copy of "Speech of Hon. H. Winter Davis, of Maryland, on Mr. Corwin's Report." Delivered in the House of Representatives. Item NOT digitized and not on MDH.	02/07/1861
	210	6	Note: Front reads: "A Meeting of members of the General Assembly and other citizens in favour of Union and State Rights and against Coercion [sic] and Civil War, will take place this Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, in the Hall of the House of Representatives." Back reads: "Call made by me for a meeting for organization of a States Rights Party in Mo: Jeff. City 19 Feb. 61. [day after Convention Election]." Written in pencil on the front and the back is the name "Reynolds," likely referring to Lt. Governor Thomas C. Reynolds who would become head of Missouri's Confederate Government in exile.	02/19/1861
	210	7	Letter: Written by John M.D. Gosseline to his father Col. T.J. Gosseline in New Bedford, Lawrence County, PA. Letter postmarked in Ironton, MO. The sender describes his eagerness to join the war effort as either a Union guerrilla, an independent ranger, or a member of an as-of-yet unformed sharpshooter regiment. He describes all the weapons at his disposal. Includes original envelope.	04/14/1861
	210	8	Letter: This is a copy of a well-known letter by the St. Louis Unionist Safety Committee headed by Oliver D. Filley, James O. Broadhead, John How, Samuel T. Glover, J.T. Witzig and Frank Blair, Jr. This particular copy is signed "S.T. Glover & others." Lithographed copies of the letter were	May 1861

			mailed to “every locality in the state.” (Peckham’s General Nathaniel Lyon p. 239) According to the letter, the new Union Party was “opposed to secession and rebellion and devoted to the maintainance [sic] of that Old Government under which our people have lived so long and so happily.” This copy is hand-written.
	210	8A	Envelope: Political cartoon titled “Strayed.” Caption reads, “From the neighbourhood of Boonville, Mo. an ugly JACK who was frightened by the sudden appearance of a Lion, his Jockey, one PRICE being made very sick by the same appearance. He is of no value whatever and only a low PRICE can be given for his capture. Sam.” Satirizes the Battle of Boonville where exiled Missouri Governor Claiborne Fox Jackson (depicted as a Jack donkey or mule) was forced to flee by Union General Nathaniel Lyon, depicted here as a lion. Confederate General Sterling Price also flees, clutching his midsection. In a similar version available through the Library of Congress here , Price is drawn crouching with his pants down, a reference to both “being caught with one’s pants down” and that he supposedly had dysentery around this time. The whole tableau plays on an advertisement for a stray (strayed) animal. Illustrated by Ehrgott & Forbriger, Cincinnati, OH.	06/25/1861
			Letter: From Samuel Horney on behalf of James DeWitt to unknown person in Littleton, Schuyler County, Illinois, 9th District. Says his son Capt. L. Horney and his men grew impatient waiting for approval from Washington to form their regiment, so they went to Missouri and formed the 10th MO [Infantry] Volunteers Company A. [Note: this is a digital scan. The original letter was sent to the Illinois State Archives on 03/21/2023.]	08/14/1861
	210	8B	Letters: 1) From Amos Burns to his brother, 08/24/1861. Addressed from Loudonville, Ohio. 2) Letter from unknown sender (probably Amos Burns) to his brother, 02/21/1862, also from Loudonville, OH. 3) Envelope addressed to Mrs. E.E. Durkee, Canton, Louis [Lewis] Co. MO, 08/31/1864. Not known if the envelope is related to the letters. Philosophical and political observations.	08/24/1861 , 02/21/1862 & 08/31/1864

	210	9	Letter: From Sam W. Eager to his brother Frank. Mentions Governor Gamble's proclamation about raising troops. Later additions to the letter inserted in pencil. Eager worked for the Provost Marshal's office in St. Louis.	08/30/1861
	210	9A	Letter: from W.H. Talbott to his friend (and future wife) Lizzy. Written from Camp Clay, MO. Talbott was with the 1 st Indiana Cavalry, Co. C. Mentions two people by name who were sent to Springfield as well as someone in his company who was thrown by a horse and injured.	09/08/[1861]
	210	9B	Letters from German immigrant Friedrich William Charles Heldman (1840-1912) of the 3rd Missouri Infantry (90-day regiment) and then later the 17th Missouri Infantry (aka Western Turner Rifles). Though he signed all of these letters William, he was carried on the company rosters as Charles. 1) To his father, 09/08/1861. Mentions Frémont and the German soldiers moving to Turner Rifle Regiment. 2) To his brother, 10/05/1861. Mentions a skirmish in Sedalia and describes the poor conditions in the Capitol Building in Jefferson City. 3) To his brother, 01/10/1862. Writing is very faded. 4) To his father, 08/16/1862. Mentions Benton's Hussars.	09/08/1861 - 08/16/1862

			however he can. Includes envelope, which has a sticker of Abraham Lincoln. Dated 10/10/1861. 2) Sallie relates that several men they know with the militia were killed outside Edina, MO last week. Names of dead include Bot (or Bott or Bots), Sise, and Norcross. (There is a Euler Norcross who died March 26, 1862 according to the MSA soldiers' database.) Includes an envelope postmarked Feb. 14 (no year). The postmark does not match the date of the letter, which is April 2/62.
	210	13	Engraving: Print from an engraving by George E. Perine & Co., New York of the "St. Louis" or "Baron DeKalb," the First U.S. Ironclad. Constructed by James B. Eads. Launched Oct. 12 th 1861. Armament 13 Guns.	circa 10/12/1861
	210	14	Letter: Written by an unknown soldier from a camp near Otterville, MO to his sister. Says they have left Georgetown [MO] and are camping 20 miles "back" from there near Otterville. He does not know where he is going next. He doesn't know when he will get a uniform. For now he is wearing old clothes. Says, "the Indiana cavalry gained a great victory lost several of their high officers then the privates just pitched in and cut them all to pieces the indiana boys can do all that." Someone named Watson wrote to him recently and said [Joe?] Miler was shot and two ladies near Grandview were murdered by Ath Meeks. Letter is unsigned. Letterhead is a figure of George Washington on a horse captioned, "Strike for the memory of Washington."	10/26/1861
	OB52	12	Newspaper: Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper Vol. XII No. 311, pp. 385-400. Newspaper includes a few mentions of Missouri, including p. 390 that features a story and sketch of Camp Zagonyi near Tipton, MO.	11/09/1861

			Springfield to Rolla. They are under a Col. Stephenson (possibly Col. John D. Stevenson of the 7 th MO Inf.). Also says that his regiment wears grey uniforms and they are nicknamed the greyhounds for the color and their speed. Letter was written on the letterhead of a Col. Ellsworth and has a colored shield insignia with Ellsworth's likeness. Document is torn and faded. Item includes a transcription made by Archives staff member SC.
	210	17	Letter: Written by John Seaton from Camp Lyon in Bird's Point, MO to his wife (unnamed). Seaton relates his time in Kentucky near the "Caves" and "Rock." He was in charge of two companies of men. Tells a story of how they spent the night in a cave dancing, playing cards, and playing music and how beautiful it was to see their shadows dancing on the walls. Says he will be home soon. No unit information available for Seaton. The letter includes a unique stamp of Confederate General Pierre Gustave Toutant-Beauregard. The stamp can be viewed from the top down with the caption, "Beauregard at Manassas, July 22, '61." Or, it can be turned upside down and that caption reads, "Beauregard in H, July 22, 1862."	12/04/1861
	210	18	Letters: Written by A.O. Wheeler with the 50 th Illinois Infantry Co. G under Captain King. 1) To his wife from his post in St. Joseph, MO. Dated 12/01/1861. 2) To his parents and wife from his post in St. Joseph, MO. He describes St. Joseph, mentions Price and Fremont. Dated 12/08/1861. 3) To his wife from his post in Corinth, MS. He mentions being put on engineer duty to build bridges and houses, which he prefers to regular duty. Also speaks in detail about the execution of Alex J. Johnson (although not by name), a Union deserter who was shot by firing squad in front of his (Wheeler's) whole regiment. Wheeler says he will try to get a copy of a photograph taken at the execution to send to his wife because he is an eye witness. Dated 07/20/1863.	12/01/1861 , 12/08/1861 & 07/20/1863

			Further states the trial for Col. Williams is to be held today and "I fear he will be acquitted." Also, "It is understood here that Gen Seigle [Sigel] has resigned in consequence of being superseded by Gen Curtis – there is a general uproar amongst the German Troops about it. Gen. Hurlbut is here and rumor sais he is restored to command and will immediately be assigned a brigade. Gen. McLustry (a viler traitor than Arnold) is foot-loose – General Lane is to be associated with two other generals – his seniors / an unprecedented arrangement) so that he can't hurt anybody." Also, "Is it a matter of surprise that such men as Clark Newcomb and John Hayward are selected to fill responsible places?"
	210	23	Letter: Written by Hugh Campbell of St. Louis to General H.W. Halleck in Washington, D.C. Campbell is complaining about [General? Special?] Order No. 10 requiring Methodist and Presbyterian churches to hang American flags over their altars. The order comes from Maj. Wilhelm Drumhiller, headquarters Kansas City. Campbell says those churches don't have altars and remarks on the "crusade against the church of my fathers." Campbell is likely the brother of Robert Campbell, richest man in Missouri at the time.	01/08/1862
	210	24	Letter: Written from an unknown soldier from Camp Benton to his brother, wife and children. Has sections dedicated to each. He tells his brother George he is grateful for a letter from Almira and thanks him for taking care of his wife and kids. He tells his son Georgy to "be a good boy and bring in wood and chips for Grandma." He tells his daughter Mary that he would like to send her a picture of himself but can't. Instead, he is sending her and her brother a gold dollar. Letter ends with, "see next sheet," but that sheet is not included. Letterhead is a statue of three women holding a plaque reading "Union and Liberty Now & Forever."	01/10/1862
	210	25	Letter: Written by T.L. or P.L. Hoisington from Ft. Holt, Kentucky to his parents (no names or place). McEckron is in Jefferson City and opens his letter with a few lines of French. The rest is English. He writes of Jefferson City, "I confess that I never was more disappointed in my life. The city is about half as large as Portage, and the only building in it, that is anything more than ordinary, is the capitol; and that is nothing extra. It stands upon a sharp elevation on the riverbank, and is rather a sombre looking affair; its gloomy appearance reminds one of a penitentiary rather than a house of representatives." He expects he will be leaving for Springfield, MO in about a week. He arrived in Jefferson City by the steamboat "Isabella" from Camp Benton. 			back of the photo reads in part, "Photographs of all the distinguished officers in the army, for sale at 25 cents each." The photographer was W.L. Troxell of St. Louis. The man in the picture is wearing a civilian overcoat over what may be a uniform. He has a mustache and beard. His identity is questionable. The eBay seller seems to think he is Samuel Chrisman. However, that is unverifiable as there is no identifying information on the photograph and it is not mentioned in the letter. Letter dated 01/21/1863. 2) To his parents, brother and sister, written from Camp Jackson, St. Louis. Dated 06/01/1863. Said he was on guard duty yesterday and last night and had the finest time. Will send his family a half dollar's worth of powder and caps and 2 [20?] dollars in cash. They have three "n ____" cooking for their company now. Said there are seven companies and one regiment at the camp in tents. Closes the letter by saying he is at Camp Gamble and future letters can be addressed to him there. Dated 06/01/1863. 3) To his brother Hiram. One page is reserved for an attached letter to Columbus Knapp. He writes about walking from McMinnsville, TN to Christiana, TN in five days. Asks his brother not to go into the service until he comes home, then they can sign up together in the navy. Also wants to teach him to play the fife so he will have an easy time and not have to stand guard. He tells Knapp that his is heavier than he ever was, weighs 148 pounds, his belly sticks out and he is "fat and Sasey." Letter has doodles on the back: one of a man with his back turned to a snake, another of an eagle in flight. Dated 03/15/1864. 4) Written by Samuel Chrisman to his parents. 			Lyon captioned, "Radicalism the only Salvation. May 10. 1863." On May 10, 1861, Brig. Gen. Lyon captured Confederate soldiers at Camp Jackson, St. Louis. He marched them through the streets toward the St. Louis Arsenal. Gunfire broke out, and many civilians and a few soldiers were killed or wounded. Several more days of street fighting occurred in what became known as the Camp Jackson Affair. One particular unit of German-American soldiers was targeted and many of the men beaten. Lyon was killed at the Battle of Wilson's Creek on Aug. 10, 1861. On the second anniversary of the Camp Jackson Affair, it seems this ribbon was produced and aimed particularly to German Missourians. It urged radical action in the name of Lyon.

	1	36	Carte de visite allegedly of Lt. Stephen Child(s) of the 6 th Missouri Infantry Volunteers Co. E. Child served from 06/21/1861 to 11/01/1862 when he was discharged for disability. Photo by C.C. Giers Photograph Gallery, Nashville, TN. Front of card is signed, "Yours truly," and then the name has been removed. "Stephen" can barely be made out, but the last name is gone. It looks like there MAY be a "t" in the surname, therefore eliminating Child as the subject. A more modern person – given the handwriting – wrote "Leuit. Stephan Child A.D.C." on the back of the photograph in pencil. We cannot be sure of the subject. The uniform is of a first lieutenant.	1861-1862

	1	79	Cabinet card, seated half-length portrait of an unidentified Union cavalry soldier. According to the donor, the soldier is holding an 1861 Savage Navy pistol that had “a clever and weird mechanism for one-handed firing and cocking (a ring-finger cocking lever), a strange shepherd’s crook hammer, and caps on the outside of the cylinder rather than the rear. These pistols were issued to the 3 rd , 4 th and 7 th Missouri Volunteer Cavalry and the 4 th MSM Cavalry.” Photo by C.M. Husted, Brashear, MO.	1861-1865
	1	80	Carte de visite full-length portrait of Maj. Gen. C.F. Smith in civilian clothes. Charles Ferguson Smith was division commander for the Department of the Missouri, which included the 13th Missouri Battery D, 1st Missouri Light Artillery, the 8th Missouri American Zouaves and Birge’s Western Sharpshooters. He died in April 1862. Photo published by E. & H.T. Anthony, 501 Broadway, New York from a photographic negative in Brady’s National Portrait Gallery. A very similar photograph of him in uniform is available through the National Archives: https://catalog.archives.gov/id/528469 .	1858-1862
	1	81	Carte de visite vignette portrait of Mr. Stavely, Hannibal, MO. According to the donor, this is lawyer Wilson L. Stavely (1845-1873). Unknown photographer.	c1867-1873

	3	1	Cased Daguerreotype. Partially hand-colored portrait of an American Zouaves soldier of the 8th Missouri Infantry. Zouaves units were light infantry modeled after French Zouaves who fought in North Africa. The donor speculates this is William H. Bates who wore an "8" and a "C" (for Company C) on his hat, which is visible reversed in this image.	1861-1865
	3	2	Cased image of two men, one of whom is in uniform. A slip of paper accompanying the image reads, "John C. Carr St. Charles Mo. Co. G. 6th Mo. Vol." There was a John C. Carr from St. Charles who served with the 6th Missouri Infantry Co. G in the Spanish-American War from 07/09/1898-02/15/1899. No individual with that name fitting that regiment was found in Civil War records; however, the photograph itself does reflect the formats available in the Civil War era.	1861-1865
	3	3	Cased image of an unidentified soldier reportedly with the 3rd Missouri Cavalry CSA.	1861-1865
	3	4	Cased tintype of Corporal Xavier Balz, 2 nd (Old) Missouri Artillery Volunteers Co. C. The top half of the case is missing, but the hook is still present. The tin is exhibiting signs of corrosion. His uniform stripes, buttons, and hatband are hand-painted gold.	1861-1863
	3	5	Cased ambrotype of Elizabeth (Strehle) Balz, wife of the above Xavier Balz. Married 09/28/1865 in St. Louis. Back is slightly damaged. Her jewelry is hand-painted gold.	c1865
	3	6	Cased image of Lt. Col. James Winans Titus of the 81 st Regiment Ohio Infantry Company B. The 81 st Ohio saw action in Missouri.	1861-1865
	3	7	Cased tintype, full-length portrait of an unidentified Union soldier. The top half of the case is missing, but the hook is still present. No photographer information. Man holds long musket and is posed in front of a backdrop of a flag, cannons and cannon balls. On the felt inside the frame, a name is written in pencil. As far as the Archives can determine, the name looks like "Michael Dershell." A man by that name was with the 100 th New York Infantry Company G and served from 10/16/1861-01/30/1865, moving from Private to Corporal in rank.	1861-1865
	3	8	Cased image, full-length portrait of an unidentified sergeant. The top half of the case is missing, but the hook is still present. Photo by N. Brown, St. Louis,	1859-1861

			MO. According to the donor, the shoulder scales present on the uniform indicate an early Civil War photo or even pre-Civil War militia. Elements of the uniform adornments are hand-painted gold. Image is very faded.
	4	1	Watercolor over a portrait of George H. Campbell, 3rd MO Cavalry MSM Co. D, 2nd musician. Measures 8.125"x11.875," painted on cardboard. Writing on reverse.	1862-1864
	280	8	A crowd is gathered around the Franz Sigel equestrian statue during its unveiling in Forest Park, St. Louis. The statue was cast by Robert Kauer in Germany and was commissioned by the Franz Sigel Monument Association. Sigel was a Civil War general out of Missouri who recruited German immigrants to fight for the Union. See folder for identities of many individuals. 9"x6.75" b&w original print. Photographer unknown.	06/23/1906

Reunion Ribbons, 1884-1910

Extent: 24 ribbons; 0.02 cubic ft.

Arrangement: Chronological.

Scope and Content

These ribbons commemorate the annual reunions of the Civil War 66th Illinois Infantry, aka 14th Missouri Volunteers, aka Western Sharpshooters. The Sharpshooters were a specialized unit armed with rifles manufactured in St. Louis by H.E. Dimick. Although there are some ribbons at the regimental level, most are for Company D. All have been digitized. TIFs are available in-house. JPGs are online through Missouri Digital Heritage here: <https://mdh.contentdm.oclc.org/digital/collection/p16795coll39>.
