HISTORICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES

United States postcards took off around 1907 when senders were allowed to write messages on the backs of the cards. Earlier, from 1901 to 1906, senders could only address the cards on the back and there was only a small space (if any) reserved on the front for a message. Historic postcards are a popular collector's item.

In the four large gold reliquaries on the main altar, there are 92 sacred relics. The two associated with our Lord, the relics of His Crib, are placed at the head of the list. There are 90 relics of 67 different saints, with duplicate relics for some of the saints. For instance, there are two relics of St. Mark and three of St. Paul. There is a small piece of the veil of St. Rose and a tiny portion of the habit of St. Francis. In all, 88 of the relics consist of small bits of bones. It is interesting to note the earliest saint represented is St. Ann, the mother of the Blessed Virgin. Also present are the relics of St. Peter and nine of his companion Apostles, as well as those of three of the Evangelists. Then there are relics of martyrs, confessors, and virgins representing every age of the Church, and gathered from all parts of the world - saints whose lives have left us examples of almost every conceivable form of heroic virtue."	n.d.
