Elaina Daniels (to All - Entire Audience): 10:02 AM: I will say that I started this job as branch manager at Cedar County, Stockton, one week before we had to shut down to the public. This has been very difficult. Our town is not doing a great job at social distancing. We are all a bit clueless about where to go from here.

Anali Mathies (to All - Entire Audience): 10:04 AM: Rolling Hills Library resumes curbside service next week, somewhat limited hours. Had tried it for few days couple weeks ago, and seemed to go well.

Paula Fagan (to All - Entire Audience): 10:04 AM: We (Mercer County Library) are not opened, I am coming in on occasion.

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:08 AM: Joplin has been closed to public and bookdrops closed since 3-18.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

Sheila Jensen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:05 AM: How are they doing the phone storytimes?

Christy Schink (to All - Entire Audience): 10:05 AM: We've been doing Facebook Live storytimes for the past 3 weeks at all 9 branches.

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:05 AM: We created a Beanstack challenge with over 180 activities just for the kids. We have an adult/teen challenge as well, and plan to potentially add to it as this continues.

Sarah Howard (to All - Entire Audience): 10:05 AM: Our library (Daniel Boone Regional Library) not allowed to do curbside, under orders from mayor...

Katie Foster (to All - Entire Audience): 10:06 AM: We are running a Spring Quarantine Reading Challenge - all ages - logging minutes for raffles when this is over

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:07 AM: We are not doing phone storytime, but one of our activity tracks on Beanstack is a digital storytime patrons can do at home with songs from jbrary and videos of storytime books.

Sherri Luce (to All - Entire Audience): 10:08 AM: Carthage has been closed (book drop also) since the 18th. I've been recording story times and posting them to our Library Facebook page; with simple activities when possible. We try to post 3-4 per week.

Kelley Jamieson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:08 AM: We have a dedicated phone line for dial-a-story. We prerecord different readers each week. Families can call in for a weekly story.

Caitlin Greathouse (to All - Entire Audience): 10:10 AM: When you do Facebook Live stories with a craft how far in advance do you post the supply list?

Katie Long (to All - Entire Audience): 10:10 AM: I've seen several copyright permissions from publishers, and they emphasize either limiting the access to a school, or a private audience, and to delete the recording at the end of the school year. I think only keeping the videos up for a week is a great idea!

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:10 AM: I love the dial-a-story idea!

Pam Mendenhall (to All - Entire Audience): 10:11 AM: Neosho is doing Facebook story time

Caitlin Greathouse (to All - Entire Audience): 10:11 AM: Me but my staff are still working Sherri Luce (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: I have found that publishers are very receptive and responsive to giving permission. Most want you to email them the titles/authors, and state you have their permission to read the book; and remove it by June 30.

Hilary Aid (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: not having a clue about timing

Katie Long (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Our insurance said we have to have like three people in the building at a time, so none of us can just go in a get materials. If we need to go in we have to coordinate with others to all go in, and make sure to turn off the alarm.

Sarah Sieg (to All - Entire Audience): 10:20 AM: I brought two bins of books and felt sets home and have been recording in my dining room. I have been scheduling the videos on FB to post on normal Storytime days.

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:20 AM: Our Hoopla runs out very early every day!

Belinda Birrer (to All - Entire Audience): 10:20 AM: We launched e-cards to be able to provide digital resources. definitely a lot of interest.

Angie Bayne (to All - Entire Audience): 10:20 AM: We increased our Hoopla limits and are talking about increasing the funds

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:21 AM: We have ecards, but no promotion as of yet

Elaina Daniels (to All - Entire Audience): 10:21 AM: My director wants me to start one. I am going to work on that today

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:21 AM: We have ecards and have increased our Hoopla checkouts.

Belinda Birrer (to All - Entire Audience): 10:21 AM: Once we promoted we got a ton of requests.

Angie Bayne (to All - Entire Audience): 10:21 AM: Our circulation manager took a laptop home and is issuing cards from home so people can get online

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:21 AM: We don't have much access from home, but e-cards have been discussed as a possibility

Dana Roberts (to All - Entire Audience): 10:22 AM: We temporarily increased Hoopla borrows and started an way for patrons to sign up for a digital library card. Hoopla has also just come out with a collection of items that don't use patrons' monthly borrows.

Belinda Birrer (to All - Entire Audience): 10:22 AM: Staff have taken home laptops to work on projects so we have access to issue cards.

Belinda Birrer (to All - Entire Audience): 10:22 AM: Did everyone see the Hoopla Bonus Borrows?

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:22 AM: What are the Hoopla Bonus Borrows?

Hilary Aid (to All - Entire Audience): 10:22 AM: Kanopy has bonus borrows too

Angie Bayne (to All - Entire Audience): 10:23 AM: We are pushing training as well

Belinda Birrer (to All - Entire Audience): 10:23 AM: Hoopla has a collection of Hoopla titles that are free and don't take up your budget or patron circus.

Sarah Sieg (to All - Entire Audience): 10:23 AM: Oh yeah! Finally got caught up on training. Was a year behind ...

Belinda Birrer (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: We have stuff come in for specific projects. Only a few in the building at a time.

Katie Long (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: Is anyone trying to gather stats from their Facebook videos? How are you collecting this data?

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: I am the only one allowed here - as Director.

Sarah Howard (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: DBRL Staff is going through the online Dowd Homelessness training..

Sheila Jensen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: Our director is the only one working the most.

Anali Mathies (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: When we resume curbside, we'll have just couple/few people working. We'll have specified telephones/etc so nobody sharing those, and keeping distance. Curbside service will be no-touch.

Angie Bayne (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: I am almost done with the Homelessness Training too. It is fantastic

Dana Roberts (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: We're going through the Homelessness training right now! It's been great

Missouri State Library (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: MOSTLib@sos.mo.gov - for Homeless Institute Access Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: It is fantastic!

Belinda Birrer (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: Katie, we have been instructed to keep stats on virtual programs separate. We are recording all of the stats that are shown for the live feed.

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: Great training resource!

Heather Emokpae (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: Katie--we are recording the highest number for live views on our FB live videos, and then we are trying to also record the total number of views before we take the videos down. We are leaving our videos up 24 hours.

Anali Mathies (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: We also have staff sewing masks for use in library.

Christy Schink (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: We had Ryan Dowd come to our all staff training day last fall and it was amazing!

Carla Abernathy (to All - Entire Audience): 10:26 AM: No one can go in the building, so we are focusing on training through webinars, including the Ryan Dowd webinar.

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:26 AM: We began using Beanstack this year before this all started, and we have added all literacy-based activities to the site for various age groups. We have 20 activities per age group

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:29 AM: I would love as many curbside ideas I could do adapting my summer reading activities into ziplock bags of crafts possibly.

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:29 AM: Are there specifications on fabric types for those masks?

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:29 AM: We've been posting daily screen free activities using canva graphics

WHAT ARE YOUR CONCERNS RIGHT NOW?

Christy Schink (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: How to plan for and what SRP is going to look like?

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Concerned about having to do a virtual summer reading program and still stay in grant parameters!

Caitlin Greathouse (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Summer Reading planning

amy held (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: can't plan because don't know when will reopen

Angie Bayne (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Trying to plan summer when we are uncertain about what summer is going to look like

Gaylee Harris (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: How to transition to an online SRP

Sarah Wood (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Figuring out all virtual summer reading

Jennifer Ensign (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: SRP

Katie Foster (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Trying to figure out SRP

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Figuring out summer reading for this year.

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: I can't speak for the whole library, but for Children's, it's all of the grants

Sarah Howard (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Summer Reading and plans and what to really do...

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: I have had an issue with grants, and plans to spend for Summer Reading

Emma Simshauser (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Definitely teen programming online. We have low numbers and are trying to grow. Then this happened and it's hard to get up and going.

Carol Darrow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: The best way to offer a virtual srp and how to decide what grant funding we need

Julia Click (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: we are struggling to plan our Summer Reading Program

Betsy Simmons (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Converting the storytime camera clip to a format compatible with social media.

Sherri Luce (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: How is everyone planning to handle performers for srp?

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:13 AM: Figuring out SR, tech issues from home

Laney Akers (to All - Entire Audience): 10:13 AM: Clear line of communication. Emails jumble things up, I feel.

Donna Morgan (to All - Entire Audience): 10:13 AM: SRP and slow wifi

Caitlin Greathouse (to All - Entire Audience): 10:13 AM: We have canceled all performers

Pam Mendenhall (to All - Entire Audience): 10:13 AM: Trying to decide how to do virtual SRP if we need to. All of our performers are scheduled for June.....

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:13 AM: Another problem that is more of a concern is the digital divide and families not having access to library materials

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:13 AM: Trying to figure out how I will reach all of my underserved I reached during summer school. Don't know if Summer School will be in progress.

Sarah Howard (to All - Entire Audience): 10:14 AM: Even re-opening may not allow for groups to gather, getting our minds around that...

Dana Roberts (to All - Entire Audience): 10:14 AM: Digital programming and minor safety on the internet. I worry about giving minors access to shared digital spaces that adults also have access to and the safety of that.

Sheila Jensen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:15 AM: I was given this link to publishers and their requirements for holding online storytimes. Her is the link: <https://www.schoollibraryjournal.com/?detailStory=publishers-adapt-policies-to-help-educators-coronavirus-covid19>

Christy Schink (to All - Entire Audience): 10:16 AM: I did see I think on PUBYAC that Beanstack was waiving their setup fees for this summer.

Kristen Thompson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:19 AM: I am already doing some recording from home. I have a stack of books. I'm still allowed in the library to replenish mybooks as of now

Betsy Simmons (to All - Entire Audience): 10:19 AM: Is anyone doing a virtual storytime with eBooks?

Sherri Luce (to All - Entire Audience): 10:19 AM: or replay them...the kids love to rehear their favorites :)

Caitlin Greathouse (to All - Entire Audience): 10:19 AM: Are any libraries maintaining full staff?

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:19 AM: Instead of digital storytime, we are connecting patrons with some of the resources we use, to teach them how to implement storytime and our early literacy resources on their own.

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:30 AM: As part of our "Spring into Reading Challenge" we have several Pandemic and COVID-19 activity tracks with info we have vetted.

Belinda Birrer (to All - Entire Audience): 10:30 AM: We are promoting fun activities like the bear hunts, sidewalk art, etc. we are connecting people to the resources they need.

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:30 AM: We send mailers (books, activities) to 10 kids from 3 different schools based on reading scores, and I am looking to expand it

Dana Roberts (to All - Entire Audience): 10:30 AM: We have a list of songs in our Spring Into Reading Beanstack challenge for washing your hands!

Sarah Sieg (to All - Entire Audience): 10:30 AM: Mask tutorial:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fySsaOojEVM&authuser=0>

Sarah Howard (to All - Entire Audience): 10:30 AM: We will have our books by snail program this summer again.

Sarah Sieg (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: Mask pattern:

https://media.rainpos.com/220/face_mask_pattern_1.pdf

Kelley Jamieson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: Would anyone like to educate me on what Beanstack is?

Angie Bayne (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: I think it is 100% cotton?

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: Sarah, do you have information on the books by snail program?

Sarah Howard (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: We can share our signup form next week? for books by snail...

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:32 AM: @Kelley Beanstack is a virtual reading challenge software to track reading

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:32 AM: We are doing a similar program on Beanstack with many quarantine activities for all ages. Many of these could be repurposed for Summer.

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:32 AM: <https://christiancountylibrary.beanstack.org/reader365>

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:33 AM: We also have been putting graphics together that feature a storytime families can do from home using digital books like tumble books as well as songs and crafts

Katie Long (to All - Entire Audience): 10:33 AM: Most fabric masks will not stop COVID-19, unless it is used as a cover for a M19 masks, or has a filter inserted. Our local hospitals have asked we do not donate fabric masks at this time, with concerns about smoke/ pet/ fragrance allergies

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:34 AM: I am a bit stressed handling director duties and trying to plan a virtual SRP too. All staff has to stay at home and I've been told that I can't even let any work from home because I can't require them ALL to do so - some don't have technology, etc. It's an all or none kind of thing, according to my HR person at the city. Any ideas on handling this HR issue?

Dana Roberts (to All - Entire Audience): 10:35 AM: Do you have admin staff?

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:35 AM: I am the only admin staff

Carla Abernathy (to All - Entire Audience): 10:35 AM: Can some volunteer to help you?

Sheila Jensen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:36 AM: Simplify!

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:36 AM: thank you! right on!

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:36 AM: Is there a library nearby you could collaborate with?

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:36 AM: Good idea!

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:36 AM: Or can you have all of them work and assign the ones without technology tasks over the phone?

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:36 AM: Professional development, even personal development, etc.?

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:36 AM: All things to consider

Sarah Sieg (to All - Entire Audience): 10:37 AM: Write book reviews!

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:37 AM: Thanks, all!

Emma Simshauser (to All - Entire Audience): 10:37 AM: What are great ways to engage teens online? We just started to focus on teens and getting them to programs has been a challenge. We started right before the virus hit so its been extremely difficult now. We are doing facebook and instagram videos but not many teen viewers.

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:37 AM: Or even have them read during work hours to expand reference knowledge?

Dana Roberts (to All - Entire Audience): 10:37 AM: Try to keep in mind while we go through this pandemic that it's okay to not be able to give our normal level of service. Simplify as much as possible, patrons will understand.

Sarah Howard (to All - Entire Audience): 10:38 AM: Any library laptops or ipads staff could borrow during this time if they do not have tech at home? hotspot? If we only knew for sure how many more weeks...

Alyssa Tabor (to All - Entire Audience): 10:39 AM: I've been watching webinars on Infopeople

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:40 AM: Great idea for a future session!

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:40 AM: @Emma, there are some awesome ideas and resources available at Teen Services Underground site and FB Group

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:40 AM: We've been having staff help post the work of other staff who do not have access to much technology

Betsy Simmons (to All - Entire Audience): 10:40 AM: The kindlefires, etc. that aren't circulating while the library is closed ...could staff without necessary laptop etc. use?

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:40 AM: usually they can contact via phone or e-mail the information they would like to have online

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:40 AM: staff have been collaborating from home, to help each other out

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:41 AM: The MCPL presentation at YALSA was fantastic! Thanks for asking them to present!

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:41 AM: There is also a Storytime Underground group/page.

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: Both resources are webpages and have closed FB Groups that librarians can use.

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: Have many people been using Canva for graphics?

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: Canva has been really great to use from home

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: Fantastic ideas and threads consistently. Lots of action regarding virtual programming lately.

Kelley Jamieson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: Big fan of Canva.

Elizabeth S Plotner (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: I'm using it like crazy!

Betsy Simmons (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: We have

Katie Long (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: Canva is wonderful once you get the hang of it

Pam Mendenhall (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: We have some Hilary Aid (to All - Entire Audience): 10:43 AM: make sure you are picking free templates.

Angie Bayne (to All - Entire Audience): 10:43 AM: We have put together a spreadsheet of training options for staff. We are making staff do training from home.

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:44 AM: re: Canva Like it a lot! Yes to the caution about free resources. I've used it for inhouse print materials and for social media posts, have teen volunteers use it for the same as well. Looks great, easy to use, esp. for someone not a graphic design background.

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:44 AM: I know we have looked into a pro subscription for canva Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:45 AM: is that something we can look into for summer reading funds? to create graphics for patrons?

Dana Roberts (to All - Entire Audience): 10:45 AM: Our Library does

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:45 AM: we are looking into purchasing it

Heather Emokpae (to All - Entire Audience): 10:45 AM: I signed up for the 30 day free trial of pro.

Katie Foster (to All - Entire Audience): 10:46 AM: $13

Katie Foster (to All - Entire Audience): 10:46 AM: a month

Katie Foster (to All - Entire Audience): 10:47 AM: or if you do a year $10

Katie Foster (to All - Entire Audience): 10:47 AM: on their homepage

Katie Foster (to All - Entire Audience): 10:47 AM: Says to inquire about large team

Courtney Waters (to All - Entire Audience): 10:48 AM: Canva does a free premium version for nonprofits. When I asked a few years ago, they counted libraries as eligible.

Katie Foster (to All - Entire Audience): 10:48 AM: photopea.com is a free ad based photoshop

Courtney Waters (to All - Entire Audience): 10:48 AM: <https://about.canva.com/canva-for-nonprofits/>

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:49 AM: Outreach

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:50 AM: yes to the questions about minors and online safety best practices

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:53 AM: We do.

Kristen Thompson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:53 AM: we have waivers

Sheila Jensen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:53 AM: I do!

Sheila Jensen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:54 AM: The one I use was from the summer reading program training from a few years back.

Dana Roberts (to All - Entire Audience): 10:54 AM: Thank you, very good advice! My other major concern is giving a platform for interactivity where we can't confirm if all the participants are minors. And possibly encouraging some measure of trust on the internet when that is dangerous.

FUTURE SESSION TOPIC SUGGESTIONS

Rebecca Buckley (to All - Entire Audience): 10:57 AM: Maybe a section on passive programming for kids for a future session. We want to still offer programming but group functions in future months may not be responsible.

Christina Matekel-Gibson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:58 AM: And maybe more information on virtual presentations for summer?

Caitlin Greathouse (to All - Entire Audience): 10:05 AM: How is everyone sanitizing books?

SUMMER LIBRARY PROGRAM GRANT

Pam Mendenhall (to All - Entire Audience): 10:29 AM: Has our grant deadline been extended because of the virus?? Our grant deadline is Aug 15th right? So if we do SRP in July and Aug instead of June and July how will that work?

Missouri State Library: Because of the source of the grant funds, we cannot extend the grant period more than two weeks. You may want to look at the Summer Reading Program Adaptations document in the Materials section in the control panel. Also, plan on attending next week's Children and Teen Services Form to learn more about Daniel Boone Regional Library's Books by Snail program.
