Lysha Thompson (to All - Entire Audience): 9:50 AM: Share a book recommendation while we wait. What are you reading or read currently?

Lysha Thompson (to All - Entire Audience): 9:50 AM: Sigh Gone by Phuc Tran

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 9:51 AM: Class Act by Jerry Craft

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 9:56 AM: I'm starting Small Steps: The Year I Got Polio by Peg Kehret today

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 9:57 AM: I think its a good one for these times. My Granny is 85 and frequently compares current events to living through the polio outbreaks

Christine Long (to All - Entire Audience): 9:57 AM: I'm re-reading Reaper at the Gates by Sabaa Tahir, so I can read "Sky Beyond the Storm," which just came out.

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:00 AM: Currently Reading "Midnight Sun" Stephanie Meyer, Wanting to read "Red Dove, Listen to the Wind" by Sonia Antaki, Just finished "the Silver Arrow" by Lev Grossman and "the Hard Way" by Lee Child, "I is for Innocent" by sue grafton, "The Ballad of Songbirds and Snakes" By Suzanne Collins, last months big book read "Reverie" by Ryan La Sala and a few others..

Missouri State Library (to All - Entire Audience): 10:01 AM: just finished "Lake of Rivers" Philippa Gregory

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:04 AM: Liz Braswell's Series of Twisted Tales if good as well. (Disney press)

Michael Willis (to All - Entire Audience): 10:04 AM: I'm enjoying "The Way Back" by Gavriel Savit right now.

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:09 AM: My mom actually taught me to change a tire, my dad didn't want me to learn

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: Being comfortable with having people review your material (resumes, papers, etc.) is so important. No one is perfect, that is okay, but that also means we need help. I have this issue as well (asking for people to review my work).

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:12 AM: I agree, my sister was my editor.

Caitlin Greathouse (to All - Entire Audience): 10:16 AM: ohhh...student loans make me sad

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:17 AM: I feel like a library would benefit from being "sponsored by Honey" the shopping app (little bit of a joke, but still I wonder if that is even possible)

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:17 AM: Money Smart Week has some good resources for financial literacy plus ideas for programs come across the site:
<https://www.moneysmartweek.org/>

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:19 AM: Don't forget about a single or double electric burner.

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:19 AM: There are also microwave/air fryer combos

Angie Rundle (to All - Entire Audience): 10:19 AM: Waffle iron and tea kettle are great too

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:20 AM: Waffle makers

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:20 AM: (there's a whole YouTube series called "Will it Waffle?"

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:20 AM: panini press?

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:21 AM: electric skillet

Sharon Anderson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:21 AM: Slow to respond here--I had to find the woman's name. There's a lady who does car maintenance videos that is great. You can find her on FB under Mechanic Shop Femme. Another teen librarian recommended her to me.

Molly Johnson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: I was already planning to do a life skills program/series of programs for our teens this summer for the SRP. I had no idea how many kids couldn't boil an egg?!

Sharon Anderson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: We didn't do them for teens, but our Adult Coordinator did an Adulting series for people in their early 20s.

Janea Coker (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: We gave a certificate at the end

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:24 AM: We did some simple microwave cooking, different ways to cook and egg. Microwave brownie's with the as seen on tv brownie maker.

Rachel Johannigmeier (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: We have had some adulting classes, involving cooking, money management...not always the best attended, but we usually have good attendance for the cooking classes

Caitlin Greathouse (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: Partner with the high school for their home economics classrooms for cooking

Christine Long (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: I remember hearing somewhere that people tend to cook about five different meals and then rotate them, so finding good "staple" meals that can be changed up easily.

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: If you can, work with your Independent Living Resource Centers

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: They sometimes have full kitchens

Molly Johnson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:25 AM: I'm in my early 30s too and for some reason it feels like my parents were WAY ahead of me in the life skills department when they were my age. What happened? Is there a study on this?

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:26 AM: Same Molly

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:26 AM: I figure my parents just wanted me to be a kid for longer???

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:26 AM: My parents had to grow up a lot earlier than I did Angie Rundle (to All - Entire Audience): 10:27 AM: How about consent, your rights with police, social media?

Sharon Anderson (to All - Entire Audience): 10:27 AM: There's a

Youtube channel that's something like, "Dad how do I?"

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:27 AM: We were made to be self-sufficient very early on, and I was born in 1982 (middle child of 6). We grew up on a farm with a stay-at-home farmer dad

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:27 AM: Oh yeah! How to handle being pulled over (not promoting it, but it could happen)

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:29 AM: I have twin 17 year old daughters and I know a ton of kids who don't have the skills they need to survive on their own

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:29 AM: If anyone has any individuals with disabilities who would benefit from programs like this, reach out to me!

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:30 AM:
lisa.hellman@sos.mo.gov

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:30 AM: I think apartment hunting/applications could be part of it too

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:30 AM: Learning about deposits is a big one

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: Car renting can't happen until 23 right?

Christine Long (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: Car renting is 25 sometimes

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: OMG
INSURANCE!

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: INSURANCE!!!

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: All the types of insurance!

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: opening a bank account, keeping track of it

AMY HELD (to All - Entire Audience): 10:31 AM: importance of having all the types of insurance

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:32 AM: I worked in insurance for several years before library life and the lack of understanding about insurance across the board is sad insurance!

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:32 AM: renter's

Angie Rundle (to All - Entire Audience): 10:32 AM: Insurance and a primary physician!

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:32 AM: Talking to people on the phone!

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:34 AM: Yes to talking on the phone. So many of the teens here say that it is a huge point of anxiety.

Angie Rundle (to All - Entire Audience): 10:34 AM: Good call, Lisa! That's one reason I require my teen volunteers to call me on the phone directly. Not their parents, but them.

Cheryl Wright (to All - Entire Audience): 10:34 AM: @Lisa, got my student work in college because when they called to talk to me I knew how to talk on the phone with people. that was my main interview!

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:34 AM: One of our teachers has her student call Wolfner to request items

Angie Rundle (to All - Entire Audience): 10:34 AM: One thing I worked on with my son is the difference between emailing teachers and texting your friend.

Christine Long (to All - Entire Audience): 10:35 AM: I think there's this pressure to be perfect with all of these adult things, and that if you don't have it together, you're a failure; so addressing the fact that not always getting the dishes done, or having a bad week, is ok.

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:35 AM: Angie, great idea. Professional communication vs. personal

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:36 AM: the whole concept of being an advocate for yourself, examples from a variety of situations

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:36 AM: ADVOCACY!

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:37 AM: @Beth, YES! SELF-ADVOCACY!

Beth Snow (to All - Entire Audience): 10:37 AM: I think there's a subtext of worthiness to the self-advocacy...you are worthy of being paid attention to, listened to, standing up for yourself, etc.

Karen Sieber (to All - Entire Audience): 10:39 AM: How to do a resume or apply for a job

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:39 AM: Brene Brown is a great author (more adult-related, but still)

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:40 AM: Wolfner Library has several of her books

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:42 AM: I had already planned on a weekly series for SRP next summer and I'm very inspired now!!! You guys are all amazing

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:46 AM: Basic tax filing

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:46 AM: Something I just remembered

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:47 AM: OMG, TAXES!

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:47 AM: I have a tax guy that my parents use...so...yes

Christine Long (to All - Entire Audience): 10:47 AM: Honestly finding someone to cut my hair...

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:47 AM: I think hair jargon!

Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:47 AM: I never know how to request what I want Lisa Hellman (to All - Entire Audience): 10:48 AM: What are low lights? What are layers?

Niki Moen (to All - Entire Audience): 10:48 AM: Christine, I think there could be a whole series about personal care too
