AMENDED ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST AND ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE WHY RESTITUTION, CIVIL PENALTIES, AND COSTS SHOULD NOT BE IMPOSED

On December 2, 2016, the Enforcement Section of the Missouri Securities Division of the Office of Secretary of State (“Enforcement Section”), through Enforcement Counsel Scott Snipkie, submitted a Petition for Order to Cease and Desist and Order to Show Cause why Restitution, Civil Penalties, and Costs Should not be Imposed (“Petition”). On December 5, 2016, the Commissioner of Securities issued an Order to Cease and Desist and Order to Show Cause why Restitution, Civil Penalties and Costs Should not be Imposed. On December 9, 2016, the Enforcement Section, through Enforcement Counsel Scott Snipkie, submitted a First Amended Petition for Order to Cease and Desist and Order to Show Cause why Restitution, Civil Penalties, and Costs Should not be Imposed (“Amended Petition”). After reviewing the Amended Petition, the Acting Commissioner of Securities issues the following order:

I. ALLEGATIONS OF FACT

The Amended Petition alleges the following facts:

A. Introduction

1. The Amended Petition alleges that Manzur Ahmed Mazumder (“Mazumder”) told Jon Moore (“Moore”), among other things, that he was a successful securities trader with years of experience. Mazumder convinced Moore that they should start a hedge fund telling Moore that investment risk would be “non-existent,” and got Moore to solicit a total of $335,000 from two long-time friends, one of whom is a Missouri resident, to start the hedge fund. Mazumder took the investors' money and gave them promissory notes; then he spent the vast majority of the money on personal expenses, losing the rest in questionable trading in his personal accounts.

B. Respondent and Related Parties

2. The Amended Petition alleges that Mazumder is a Tennessee resident with a last known address of 1800 Adair Bridge Cove, Germantown, Tennessee 38138-3108. A check of the Central Registration Depository ("CRD") indicates that Mazumder is assigned number 2780858, but he has never been registered as an agent or investment adviser representative with a broker-dealer or investment advisory firm.
3. Moore was a Missouri-registered broker-dealer agent and investment adviser representative with various firms during the period February 2008 through July 2015. Moore was registered through the CRD with number 5487704, and currently resides at 111 Link Drive, Sikeston, Missouri 63801.

C. Enforcement Section Investigation

4. On January 5, 2016, the Enforcement Section returned a telephone call to Moore.
5. Moore told the Enforcement Section, among other things, that he had met Mazumder in or around 2012 or 2013 when both men worked at an insurance agency.
6. Mazumder persuaded Moore to connect him with investors to start a hedge fund with the intention of raising at least $400,000. Mazumder's responsibility would be trading securities while Moore's responsibility would be sales.
7. Mazumder represented himself to Moore as an experienced securities trader with a successful background and that investment risk was "non-existent."
8. Moore solicited two friends, one of which was a Missouri resident, to invest a total of $335,000. The Missouri resident's investments are described in detail below. Mazumder supplied the investors with promissory notes that included Moore's signature that Mazumder affixed without authorization.
9. Moore would later learn that Mazumder opened Fidelity and Merrill Lynch brokerage accounts, in Mazumder's name only, where Mazumder made in excess of 400 trades with investor funds. Moore believed that Mazumder transferred some investor funds to a Bank of America ("BOA") account in which Mazumder was the sole signatory.
10. In late 2015, Moore began receiving complaints from the investors about missed interest payments. Moore researched Mazumder on the internet and found numerous liens, judgments, and the November 2013 Final Order to Cease and Desist and Order Awarding Restitution and Costs and Imposing Civil Penalties ("2013 Missouri C&D Order") issued by Missouri (see Case No. AP-13-18). Moore said the Order "read like the history of what I've been through.”

11. As Moore began to question Mazumder about the investments, Mazumder became more distant. Moore's last communication with Mazumder was in late 2015 when Mazumder sent Moore a message via text that stated, “I know how your mind works like the back of my hand.”

Missouri Resident (“MR”)

12. On February 4, 2016, the Enforcement Section interviewed a 56-year-old Missouri resident (“MR”).
13. Among other things, MR told the Enforcement Section that MR has known Moore for several years and had met Mazumder approximately four times.
14. In late 2014 or early 2015, Moore met with MR in MR's home to discuss investing in a “trading business” that Moore and Mazumder wanted to start. Mazumder participated in the discussions by telephone. The discussions concerned Mazumder's purported abilities to generate good returns using Mazumder's trading strategies.
15. On January 2, 2015, MR invested $60,000 via wire transfer to a Fidelity brokerage account under Mazumder's control. Shortly after this investment, Mazumder supplied MR with a signed promissory note that stipulated, among other things, that “[t]he unpaid principal and $30,000 accrued interest shall be payable in full on or by March 31, 2015.”
16. The promissory note was dated December 24, 2014.
17. Shortly after the first investment, MR invested an additional $40,000 after being solicited by Mazumder. Mazumder wanted MR to invest $200,000 but MR only invested the $40,000. The purpose of the funds was to further Mazumder's and Moore's efforts to start a hedge fund.
18. MR did not receive a promissory note for the second investment. MR's investments were derived from the proceeds of a house sale.
19. MR received two $2,500 payments for a total of $5,000 in returns on the investments. When MR complained to Moore, who passed the complaint on to Mazumder, Moore told MR that Mazumder insisted the money had to be locked up in the account for one year and payments would begin at the end of 2015 or early 2016. The payments never materialized.
20. Mazumder never discussed liquidity or the availability of the funds with MR prior to investment.

Review of MR's Investment After Deposit
