Chapter 2—Banks and Trust Companies

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Missouri State Banking Board and the Missouri commissioner of finance under section 361.105, RSMo 2000, the commissioner and the board amend a rule as follows:

4 CSR 140-2.055 Purchase of Bank Owned Life Insurance is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on February 18, 2003 (28 MoReg 319-320). No changes have been made in the text of the proposed amendment, so it is not reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: A public hearing on this proposed amendment was held on March 20, 2003, and the public comment period ended on March 20, 2003. No written comments were submitted for filing prior to the public hearing. At the public hearing one commenter testified and also submitted written comments and exhibits. These comments presented various matters for consideration. For clarity the comments will be addressed separately. The division considered all the comments and to the extent any information is not specifically addressed it is the division's position that the information either supports the final order of rulemaking or did not present a sufficient basis for a change to the rule and proposed amendment.

COMMENT: Concentrations of credit risk are addressed in the rule by limiting the amount of insurance that can be purchased from any one carrier based on cash surrender values. The commenter recommended a reduction to the per carrier limit to compel greater diversification of the carriers utilized by a bank for a bank owned life insurance program. The commenter also stated that additional guidance on concentrations of credit risk should be considered in the rule.

RESPONSE: The division agrees that a sound plan for bank owned life insurance requires credit risk to be managed and in some circumstances will require diversification among carriers. The rule sets a minimum requirement for diversification. Banks routinely manage credit risk as part of the bank's lending and investment activities. The division does not see a need at this time in this rule to further limit the discretion of banks in managing credit risk related to a bank owned insurance program.

COMMENT: The commenter questioned whether the per carrier limit based on cash surrender values would be measured at the time of purchase or measured throughout the life of the policy. The commenter stated that federal authorities view similar federal limits as rigid throughout the life of any policy.

RESPONSE: Any bank considering the purchase of bank owned life insurance that will have a cash surrender value should take into account the cash surrender value relative to its capital levels and legal loan limit at the time of purchase. The bank should also consider projected increases in the cash surrender value and the projected changes in capital levels and the bank's legal loan limit for the duration of the contract. The proposed rule is consistent with this view and with federal regulatory authority.

COMMENT: The commenter indicated that the rule should address a bank's authority to hold insurance on an individual after termination of the employment relationship and recommended incorporation of Missouri's insurable interest laws. The commenter also stated that determining whether a person qualifies as a "key" person should take into account the person's economic contribution to the bank.

RESPONSE: The proposed rule states that the authority to hold a key person policy lapses when the individual is no longer considered a key person when, because of a change in employment status or responsibilities, the person is no longer considered a key person. Employment status or responsibilities to the bank take into account or mirror a person's economic contribution to the bank so a change to specifically address a person's economic contribution is redundant. The rule does not change and does not supersede state law on insurable interest. The proposed rule is consistent with legal requirements for insurable interest. The proposed rule states that life insurance purchased in conjunction with employee compensation and benefit plans may be held so long as the bank's liabilities under associated compensation and benefit plans continue. Insurance purchased to protect the bank's interest in the life of a borrower is limited to the principal balance of the borrower's obligation. The proposed rule adequately addresses these matters.

COMMENT: The commenter recommended that the use of bank owned life insurance for estate planning purposes should be prohibited unless it is part of a reasonable compensation plan. The commenter also stated that "Funding for the payment of compensation and benefit plans may be made or split in a joint manner between the bank, employee, or director as in 'split dollar' or other insurance plans."

RESPONSE: Under the rule for bank owned life insurance, estate planning is not an authorized purpose of the bank. There is no need to prohibit what is not authorized. The division recognizes that individuals might take into account available insurance under a bank compensation plan when doing their personal estate planning. With respect to split funding of bank owned life insurance plans a conflict and a regulatory issue might arise with arrangements where the cost of bank owned life insurance is split between the bank, employee or director. The rule allows flexibility in this regard. However, where the bank's plan requires the employee to be responsible for a portion of the cost of a split dollar policy an issue could arise if the bank elects to fund the employee's portion of the cost and later recovers it from the cash surrender value. In this case the bank is advancing credit. The rule does not provide and is not intended to provide any exception to limitations that apply to extensions of credit. Since the rule provides no exception, the bank's plan for bank owned life insurance must take these matters into account.

COMMENT: The commenter raised various issues with "separate account" life insurance being part of a bank owned life insurance plan. Separate account life insurance presents complex considerations and structural issues that must be addressed to avoid improper terms or structures that could cause adverse tax consequences to the bank. The commenter also noted that the use of equity investments in separate accounts has been limited by federal regulators absent the use of the investments as a direct hedge against a deferred compensation liability.

RESPONSE: These matters are the responsibility of the bank as well as the bank's consultants, agents and brokers and require the exercise of due diligence in structuring and implementing a bank owned life insurance plan. Many of the abuses or pitfalls recognized in this comment arise from implementing a plan of bank owned life insurance as an investment. The rule does not authorize bank owned life insurance as an investment. Banks, consultants, agents and brokers each have a duty to exercise diligence and competence in the conduct of their affairs. This is inherent and is not a matter that needs to be prescribed by rule.

COMMENT: The commenter suggested that the rule incorporate express requirements for a bank to document a pre-purchase analysis of any bank owned insurance transaction and to require continued monitoring and compliance. The commenter also recommended that banks document their understanding of bank owned life insurance and its risks.

RESPONSE: The proposed rule sets out certain express requirements for documentation and prescribes certain criteria a bank must consider to implement a bank owned life insurance plan. The rule confirms legal authority for bank owned life insurance programs as incidental to a bank's business. However, the rule is not intended to present every factor or requirement that a bank should or must consider. Banks, consultants, agents and brokers each have a duty to exercise diligence and competence and to avoid conflict of interest in the conduct of their affairs and these duties are not diminished or supplanted by the proposed rule.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: A public hearing on this proposed rule was held on March 20, 2003, and the public comment period ended on March 20, 2003. One (1) written comment was received prior to the hearing date; no comments were made at the hearing.

COMMENT: Gregory T. J. Madson, Vice President and Secretary for Check into Cash, Cleveland, Tennessee, noted that the current wording of the first sentence of section (8) Renewals could be read as contradicting both 408.500, RSMo and the remainder of section (8). RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The comment was given due consideration and a change was made to clarify the rule.

4 CSR 140-11.030 Licensing and General Provisions

(8) Renewals. The General Assembly has clearly indicated its intention that no borrower is to be indebted to a section 500 company on any particular loan for any great period of time. This is evidenced by language that a) requires the borrower to begin reducing the principal amount of the loan by not less than five percent (5%) with the first renewal, b) limits the number of renewals to six (6), and c) provides for seventy-five percent (75%) of the original loan amount as the maximum amount of interest and fees that a lender may collect. In determining whether a renewal or something else which does not count as a renewal has occurred, the Division of Finance will insist upon absolute good faith from its licensees and will look to substance rather than form. Generally, if the customer enters the office indebted and leaves the office indebted, a renewal will be assumed to have taken place unless the loan was paid in full in cash. A section 500 company is required by section 408.500.7, RSMo to consider, at the inception of the loan, the borrower's ability to repay. This requires the section 500 company to consider the borrower's ability to make the required principal reductions when necessary. Exceptions to this requirement may result in enforcement as provided in sections 408.500.9 and 408.500.10, RSMo, which may include fines and/or revocation or suspension of the license. If a loan is renewed without the required principal reduction, the section 500 company shall reduce the principal of the loan to an amount that is consistent with the requirements of section 408.500.6, RSMo.
