Be it resolved by the people of the state of Missouri that the Constitution be amended:

Article VI is amended by enacting one new section to be known as Section 34 of Article VI, to read as follows:

VI Section 34.

- This Section shall be known as the "Restoring Local Freedom Amendment."
- 2. Notwithstanding any provision of this Constitution or state law to the contrary, any city, town, village or municipality containing ten thousand or more inhabitants, including cities which have and have not adopted a charter and incorporated and unincorporated cities and towns, and any county of any number of inhabitants, including counties which have and have not adopted a charter, shall have the power to enact and enforce ordinances and regulations which establish and enforce standards or requirements within its geographic boundaries for:
 - (1) provision of a minimum wage or living wage higher than, but not less than, any in state law or regulation; or
 - (2) provision of minimum paid or unpaid days off or leave from work for sickness or illness, vacation, or personal or familial necessity that exceed, but are not less generous than, any in state law or regulation;

however, such an ordinance and regulation enacted under the grant of power of this Section shall not apply to employees of the state or another political subdivision. A city, town, village, municipality or county as described in this subsection 2 shall have the power to enact and enforce an ordinance or regulation authorized by this Section following the effective date of this Section notwithstanding a conflict or inconsistency with state law or regulation provided that the ordinance or regulation establishes or enforces standards or requirements as permitted by this subsection 2. Further, no state law or state regulation currently in effect or later enacted or promulgated shall, either expressly or impliedly, restrict or prohibit any such city, town, village, municipality or county from enacting and enforcing ordinances and regulations authorized by this Section following the effective date of this Section relating to the establishment or enforcement of standards or requirements as permitted in this subsection 2 or act to preempt or nullify such ordinances and regulations relating to the establishment or enforcement of standards or requirements as permitted in this subsection 2.

3. Nothing herein is intended to diminish or detract from the existing powers of a city, town, village, municipality or county under this Constitution. This Section shall be liberally construed to promote the public policy of local control by local government. A city or county which has adopted a charter for its own government may amend that charter as permitted by the Constitution to provide for the exercise of the power set forth in this Section, if such power is currently limited or denied by its charter. Nothing herein shall be interpreted or applied to authorize a city, town, village, municipality or county to enforce any ordinance or regulation enacted under the authority of this Section in a manner that is in conflict with federal law.
