SUMMARY: NBS Handbook 133 provides procedures to test (by using statistical sampling techniques) individual lots of packages for conformance with legal requirements. Anything that is put into a container, wrapped, or banded and labeled as to quantity may be inspected. The labeled quantity may be of weight, volume, linear, square or cubic measure, count or combination. The examination of packaged commodities may be to determine conformance with federal, state or local net contents labeling regulations. Most often, compliance testing of packaged goods is carried out to protect the consumer/purchaser against buying packages with less in them than the labeled quantity and to advise the manufacturer to improve delivered product quantities when necessary. Inspection for compliance with other labeling requirements (such as size of lettering or units of measurement) also may accompany package quantity compliance testing, but is not covered in this document.

(1) The technical procedures and methods used by the Division of Weights and Measures for measuring and inspecting packages or amounts of commodities kept, offered, exposed for sale, sold or in the process of delivery, shall be those procedures and methods described and specified in the National Bureau of Standards Handbook 133, Checking the Net Contents of Packaged Goods.

(2) The director of the Department of Agriculture or a designated subordinate shall amend this rule as each new addition, amendment or revision of Handbook 133 is published and becomes available. Should any portion of

Handbook 133 be deemed unacceptable, rules will be promulgated within this chapter denoting and excepting those portions and adopting alternative provisions as deemed necessary by the director of the Department of Agriculture.
