On this 20 day of March, 1968, comes on to be heard the petition of Winnie Mae Thomas Chaney, for probate of the will of Roy R.
Chaney, deceased, and for appointment of a personal representative for the estate, and upon consideration of such petition and the facts and evidence in support thereof, the Court finds:

B-468

That the testator of said will is deceased; that the instrument offered for probate was executed in all respects according to law when the testator was competent to do so and acting without undue influence, fraud or restraint, that the will was not revoked, and the instrument offered for probate is his last will;
that this court has jurisdiction and venue properly lies in this county. The Court further finds that Winnie Mae Thomas Chaney is a proper person and fully qualified by law to serve as Executrix of said will and administer the estate of the deceased.
